Who's the course for?

If you are a tenant, housing professional or anyone wanting to gain knowledge and understanding of tenant participation and community development in Scotland and the links between these, this course is for you!

For more experienced tenants and staff, the certificate provides formal recognition of your knowledge and understanding. Supporting learners to complete the course also assists landlords towards achieving TPAS Scotland Accreditation.

What's in the course?

What's in the course? The course consists of 4 parts. All essential learning materials are provided, except a copy of your landlord organisation's tenant participation strategy which you will need to obtain yourself.

PART ONE CONSIDERS:

What is Tenant Participation?
Benefits of Tenant Participation
Legal & Regulatory context of tenant participation in Scotland

PART TWO EXPLORES:

Tenant Participation Strategies
Levels of and approaches to participation

PART THREE COVERS:

What is community development?
Links between tenant participation and community development
Development capacity in the community

PART FOUR FOCUSES ON:

Supporting increased tenant involvement
Requirements on registered tenant organisations
Charitable status and the office of the Scottish Charity Regulator

Successful completion of all parts of the course leads to an Open College Network NI Level 2 Endorsed Course Certificate in Tenant Participation and Community Development (comparable to Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework Level 5).

The certificate is delivered in partnership with Supporting Communities our OCN Northern Ireland accredited partner. Online learners must register for the award. Learners in face-to-face groups can choose whether or not to register for the award.
